Diplomatic Gossip.

The French ambassador and Mme. Jusserand entertained at dinner last night in honor of Admiral Rivet, commander-in-chief of the naval forces of France in the Atlantic division. Those invited to meet the admiral were the members of his staff, who accompanied him to Washington; Capt. Charles Ollivier, chief of staff; Lieut. Jean Baptiste Aubrey, aide-de-camp, and Capt. Edouard Amelot, commander of Le Tage, and Secretary Root, Admiral Dewey, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, Assistant Secretary of State Loomis, Assistant Secretary of War Sanger, Rear Admiral Taylor, Captain Cowles, Commander Boutakoff, Russian naval attaché; M. De Margerie, Major Vignal, M. Bouefue, and M. Anglinier, of the French embassy.

The health of President Roosevelt was proposed by Ambassador Jusserand. Secretary Root proposed the health of President Loubet. Admiral Rivet responded to the toast "The American Navy," and Admiral Dewey to "The French Navy." Admiral Rivet, with three of the members of his staff, reached Washington Monday night, and are registered at the Arlington. They will leave town today to join the flagship, Le Tage, now lying in Baltimore harbor.

On Saturday evening next Admiral Rivet will have the honor of reciprocating the French ambassador's hospitality, when he will entertain the ambassador and Madame Jusserand, Major Paul Vignal, the military attaché; M. Roger Anglinier, and M. Jules Bouefue, of the embassy staff, on board his flagship. After President Roosevelt's return to the White House Admiral Rivet expects to make a second visit to Washington to pay his respects to the head of the nation.

Le Tage, which owes her name to the famous naval battle won by the French against the Portuguese on the Tagus River in 1831, reached Baltimore Monday morning. On entering the harbor she saluted the flag flying over Fort McHenry with twenty-one guns. The fort promptly returned the salute.

Visits Exchanged.

In the course of the day visits were exchanged between Le Tage and the commander of the fort, and many distinguished people boarded the ship after she came to anchor.

This is Admiral Rivet's second visit to the United States. He first came to this country on board the Phlogeton in 1864, when he was still a midshipman. The admiral speaks English fluently and both he and his officers are enjoying their cruise in American waters.

The Mexican ambassador, Senor Don Manuel de Azpiroz, has decided upon Deal Beach, N. J., as the location of the embassy for the summer months. Instead of Avalon, N. J., as erroneously reported elsewhere. The latter is on the southern Jersey coast, while the resort selected is more convenient to New York city, being near Long Branch and Allenhurst.

According to present intentions, the ambassador will not move his official headquarters to Deal Beach until the latter part of this month. Preparations have been made to leave Washington June 15, but if the weather does not become excessively warm by that date the departure will be delayed as long as possible.

The ambassador's son, Senor Don Rodrigo de Azpiroz, who is second secretary of the embassy, will go to Deal Beach for the season, as will several of the attaches. The headquarters here will be kept open all summer, in charge of a secretary, for convenience in case the ambassador desires to make the short trip here from New Jersey at any time official business requires.

Count and Countess Della Gheradesca are booked to sail from New York on Thursday. They will visit the count's aunt, Countess d'Aramon, before joining his family in Florence, unless the condition of his grandmother, Mrs. Fisher, who is ill, becomes critical.

Two ambassadors were among the passengers of the Kronprinz Wilhelm, which reached New York yesterday—Joseph H. Choate, ambassador to the Court of St. James, and R. S. McCormick, ambassador to Russia. Both came to attend the wedding of Miss Frances Marsh and Frank Hough Towner, at the home of the bride's parents in Q Street at 8 o'clock last evening. The drawing rooms were decorated with garlands of green, and profusion of white daisies, which were tastefully arranged and made an effective adornment.

The bride was attended by Miss Bessie Lyman, Miss Marie Johnson, Miss Katie Thorburn, Miss Bertha Ellis, and Miss Cora Hough, all of whom wore white organdie frocks made on tulle and carried bouquets of sweet peas. The bride's gown was of white panne crepe, over which a long tulle veil, fastened with a wreath of orange blossoms, fell in graceful lines. Dr. Arthur Cooper acted as best man. The ushers were Dr. Francis, Dr. Smith, Dr. Richardson, and Dr. Tallmadge. A large reception followed the ceremony, in the presence of a small party of relatives and friends.

On their return from their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Towner will live in Washington.

The marriage of Miss Ruth Williams Pruyn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clarence Pruyn, and David Marvin Goodrich, of Akron, Ohio, was celebrated yesterday at St. Peter's Church, Albany.

The bridegroom's best man was R. Monroe Ferguson. The ushers were William Woodward, Fletcher Harper, E. Leonard Irvin, Nicholas Biddle, John C. Greenway, Lockett Coleman, John McIlhenny, Frank Graham Thomson, Benjamin S. Cable, Theodore Hoague, Norman Cabot, Greenville Emmet, Edward L. Pruyn, and Langdon Marvin.

Miss Pruyn, who entered the church on her father's arm, was attended by a maid of honor, Miss Betty McCallie, and by the following six bridesmaids: Miss Alice Roosevelt, daughter of President Roosevelt; Miss Natalie Henderson, of New York; Miss Janet Mann and Miss Jessie Mann, of Troy; and Miss Elizabeth Pruyn and Miss Mary Bowditch, of Albany. A reception at Mr. Pruyn's house followed the wedding.

Senator Chauncey M. Depew will take a party of relatives and friends from a dinner at Rauscher's last night in honor of Miss Carr and Mr. Thompson. The guests included the members of the bridal party.

Weddings.

Yesterday was a day of weddings, five important ones having taken place in the course of the afternoon and evening. Only one of these was celebrated in church, but they were all noteworthy because of the beautiful floral decorations. Laurel and the other decorative wild flowers to be found in the woods now were used with fine effect.

The wedding of Miss Mary Hancock, niece of G. C. Heard, and W. I. Underwood, of Charlotte, N. C., took place at the home of the bride's uncle in M Street at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The Rev. A. W. Pitzer, of the Central Presbyterian Church, officiated.

The bride wore a gown of white organdie, built on tulle, with tulle veil, and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. She was attended by her cousin, Mrs. Anna Holt, who wore a toilet of pink chiffon. Her flowers were La France roses. A reception followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Underwood left last night for the South, where they will pass their honeymoon.

Miss Gertrude Gensler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Gensler, and Arthur Ferris Bennett, of New York, were married last night at the home of the bride's parents in Thirteenth Street. Only the relatives and intimate friends were invited to the ceremony which was followed by a reception. The drawing rooms were decorated with exquisite taste, the prevailing color being pink. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Edward Buckley, of St. Matthew's Church, in the bay window, which was banked with pink and white roses on a background of laurel boughs.

The bride's gown was of white lace over peau de soie, richly embroidered in pearls. Her tulle veil was fastened with a coronet of orange blossoms. The bride's only attendant was Miss Madeleine Kengle, who wore a charming frock of white embroidered chiffon over white silk and carried a bouquet of La France roses. The groom's brother, Orville Bennett, acted as best man. The ushers were Andrew Mills, Herbert Mills, of New York, cousins of the groom; Harry Miller and Donald Gensler, who preceded the bridal party through an aisle girt by broad white satin ribbons to the improvised chancel. An orchestra, stationed in the hall, played the wedding march from "Lohengrin" as the bridal party made its way through the drawing rooms.

The reception, to which several hundred invitations were sent out, began immediately after the ceremony. Mrs. Gensler received her guests in a rich toilet of black lace with trimmings of white. A buffet supper was served, the table being decorated with bride roses and ferns. Among the out-of-town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Bennett, Orville Bennett, and Miss Bennett, of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett left town last night. They will make their future home in New York and purpose passing the summer in one of its suburbs.

The marriage of Miss Clara Bayne Wheeler, daughter of Mrs. Woodbury Wheeler, and Otto F. Wieters, of East Orange, N. J., was celebrated by the Rev. William Levering Devries, at St. Mark's Church last evening. The bride's toilet was of white mousseline de soie, appliqued with lace, her flowers, bride roses. Her sister, Miss Genevieve Wheeler, wore a pretty costume of organdie over pink and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses. The ushers were Breckinridge Bayne, Lieutenant Falciner, Hugh Nutting, Ralph Nutting, Spencer Nichols, and Elissa S. Theall. The bride's uncle, Dr. J. W. Bayne, conducted her to the altar. Mr. and Mrs. Wieters will live in East Orange.

The Rev. Dr. S. M. Newman, of the First Congregational Church, celebrated the marriage of Miss Frances Marsh and Frank Hough Towner, at the home of the bride's parents in Q Street at 8 o'clock last evening. The drawing rooms were decorated with garlands of green, and profusion of white daisies, which were tastefully arranged and made an effective adornment.

The bride was attended by Miss Bessie Lyman, Miss Marie Johnson, Miss Katie Thorburn, Miss Bertha Ellis, and Miss Cora Hough, all of whom wore white organdie frocks made on tulle and carried bouquets of sweet peas. The bride's gown was of white panne crepe, over which a long tulle veil, fastened with a wreath of orange blossoms, fell in graceful lines. Dr. Arthur Cooper acted as best man. The ushers were Dr. Francis, Dr. Smith, Dr. Richardson, and Dr. Tallmadge. A large reception followed the ceremony, in the presence of a small party of relatives and friends.

On their return from their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Towner will live in Washington.

The marriage of Miss Ruth Williams Pruyn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clarence Pruyn, and David Marvin Goodrich, of Akron, Ohio, was celebrated yesterday at St. Peter's Church, Albany.

The bridegroom's best man was R. Monroe Ferguson. The ushers were William Woodward, Fletcher Harper, E. Leonard Irvin, Nicholas Biddle, John C. Greenway, Lockett Coleman, John McIlhenny, Frank Graham Thomson, Benjamin S. Cable, Theodore Hoague, Norman Cabot, Greenville Emmet, Edward L. Pruyn, and Langdon Marvin.

A reception at Mr. Pruyn's house followed the wedding.

Senator Chauncey M. Depew will take a party of relatives and friends from

New York to Peekskill this morning to attend the marriage there of his niece, Miss Martha Depew Strang, to Alfred Hudson Townley. The Senator will give away the bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. Albert Strang. Miss May Strang will be the maid of honor, and Alexander Robert Fordyce, Jr., the best man.

Miss Lucretia Jackson Morse and Clarence A. Arnold, of Warren, Pa., were married last night at the home of the bride's uncle, John H. Miller, 1723 J Street northwest. After the ceremony the young people boarded a train for Atlantic City and other seaside resorts. They will be at home in Warren after June 10.

The ceremony, performed by the Rev. Robert M. Moore, pastor of Foundry M. E. Church, was notably simple and picturesque. All the first floor of the Miller residence was hung with asparagus vine, and the walls were hidden by palms and bouquets of roses. In the dining room crimson roses gave this scheme of decoration a dash of bright color.

Attending the bride and groom were Miss Sadie Clokey, of Washington, as bridesmaid, and Eugene A. Arnold, a brother of the groom, as best man. The bride wore a gown of white Swiss muslin, accented with a trim of white lace, and a tulle veil. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

A party of friends of the groom attended from Warren. The assembly included also many friends of the bride and a number of newspaper men who are Mr. Miller's professional associates.

Strawberry Festival.

Owing to the inclemency of last Wednesday evening the board of lady managers of the Eastern Dispensary and Casualty Hospital will repeat their strawberry festival this evening from 7 to 10 o'clock at their building, 217 Delaware Avenue. As the board has pledged itself to a certain sum necessary to continue the work, a large attendance is requested.

Word has been received in Washington that Lord Lyveden and a party, members of the English house of lords, will arrive in New York from London June 20.

The information was received in a letter to the District Commissioners, who are requested to have a representative at New York to arrange for a visit of the party to Washington.

The itinerary of the party includes a trip across Canada, from Quebec to Vancouver.

THE PERFECT PIANO-PLAYER.

The Kimball, Shown by J. D. Young, 523 Eleventh Street.

Musicians tell us, folks who have musical ears, and we are confident that the simplicity and accuracy of the Kimball Piano Player have placed it on a high plane of perfection. Imagine having dance music or classical selections right in your home, and no musician necessary. Just one of two primary notes and you are ready to produce selections with character and taste that cannot be produced by human hands. J. D. Young, 523 Eleventh Street northwest.

RECITAL GIVEN AT WASHINGTON CLUB

Program Presented by the Pupils of Mrs. Frank Byram.

An interesting recital was given at the Washington Club last night by the pupils of Mrs. Frank Byram, assisted by Mrs. Ivy Herriott Shade, soprano. The program was long and ambitious, and was interpreted with much distinction by the separate members of the class.

Among the numbers deserving particular attention was the "Peer Gynt Suite," played by Miss Law and Miss Mothershead; a Sinding number skillfully read by Miss Law, and Coverly's "Tarantella Rusticana," played by Miss Thompson.

Mrs. Shade scored a distinct success in Bemberg's "Nymphs and Fauns" and Sawyer's "Spanish Romance." Among the other numbers on the program were the waltz from Gounod's "Faust" (for two pianos) by Miss Carroll, Miss Borland, Miss Clarkston, and Miss Bigelow; Weber's "Invitation to the Dance" (for two pianos), Miss Law, Miss Mothershead, Miss Loker, and Miss Herman.

Orth's "Valse Gracieuse," Miss Crosswell; Oehms's "Italian Serenade," Miss Solomon; "Tilting at the Ring," Garlitt (two pianos), Miss Crosswell, Joe Yerkes, Stanley Wright and Everett Maddox; "Song to the Evening Star," Wagner (four hands), Miss Byer and Miss Solomon; George Hamer's "Forest Nymphs," Miss Mautner; Mueller's "Polonais," Miss Byer; "Il Trovatore" (two pianos), Miss Morrison, Miss Knight, and the Misses Dodge; "Funeral March of a Marionette," by Gounod, Miss Randall; "Pierrette," Chaminade, Miss Clements; Gottschalk's "Dying Poet," Miss Carroll; Chopin's Nocturne No. 2, Miss Herman; Grieg's "To the Spring," Miss Tompkins.

HINTS FOR WASHINGTON HOUSEKEEPERS

Spring lamb is much higher than usual, having gone up to 20c to 25c per pound. The retail dealers complain that it is hard to get. With the exception of lamb, the meat market is holding about the same.

The dealers promise vegetables grown in Maryland and Virginia by Saturday. This will cause a drop in the present prices. Tomatoes are a trifle cheaper than they were yesterday, the best selling at 12½c a pound.

Potomac bass still continues scarce, and when they come will sell for 20c to 25c a pound. Potomac shad are all gone, and but seven days of grace remain to the fish dealers in which to sell off the rest of their shad. Bluefish and rockfish are most plentiful in the market today.

Cherries of a better quality are now on the market. Watermelons continue scarce, and run from 50 cents to $1. Florida peaches are now selling for 15c a quart. Cantaloupes bring about $1 a dozen.

Eggs, butter and cheese remain the same.

Today's retail market prices follow:

VEGETABLES—Lima Beans, 25c flat; tomatoes, 12½c pound; Bermuda onions, 10c per box; spring onions, 5c; string beans 15c ¼ peck; summer squash, 8c to 10c; rhubarb, 5c; asparagus, 25c to 35c per bunch; green asparagus, 10c to 20c; new peas, 40c per peck; new potatoes, 40c per peck; lettuce, 5 to 10c bunch; celery, 8c and 10c bunch; cucumbers, 2c to 8c; eggplants, 15c to 25c; mushrooms, 40c to 50c per pound; cauliflower, 20c to 25c a head; Branch beets, 10c a bunch.
